DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species and Applicant is required to make the following elections:

I. Applicant is required to elect a process:

A. for maintaining damage to a pathogen nucleic acid in a fluid containng blood components, including claims 1-9 and 20-23; or

B. for inactivating white blood cells which may be contained in a fluid, including claims 11-19.

The species are independent or distinct because specie A is a sterilization procedure aimed at a foreign pathogen while specie B is directed to inactivating an endogenous blood component. The species are distinct because the processes provide distinct compositions, a fluid containing dead pathogen vs. inactivated while blood cells in a fluid.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, no claim is generic.

II. If specie A is elected, Applicant is required to elect:

A. a blood component comprising a platelet; or

B a blood component comprising a red blood cell;

The species are independent or distinct because platelets and red blood cells have different function and structure. Platelets have no hemoglobin and a used for coagulation. Red Blood cells have hemoglobin and are responsible for carrying oxygen to cells.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claims 1-6, 9 and 20-23 are generic.

Art Unit: 1651

III. If specie B is elected, Applicant is required to elect:

- A. a blood component comprising a platelet;
- B a blood component comprising a red blood cell; or
- C. a blood component comprising plasma.

The species are independent or distinct because platelets and red blood cells have different function and structure. Platelets have no hemoglobin and are used for coagulation. Red Blood cells have hemoglobin and are responsible for carrying oxygen to cells. Plasma is the non-cellular component of blood.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claims 11, and 15-16 are generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Susan Hanley whose telephone number is 571-272-2508. The examiner can normally be reached on M-F 9:00-5:30.
